Pocket Full of Gold® - Hemerocallis x 'Poczam' BLOOMS TWICE AS NICE

There is no doubt that Stella D 'Oro is an exceptional daylily. But, what if you could get an ever-blooming dwarf daylily that flowers even more prolific than Stella? Well, you don't have to wonder too much because Lake County New Plants has introduced Pocket Full of Gold®.

Dwarf in form, Pocket Full of Gold® reaches a height of approximately 18 inches. It has a neat and tidy appearance ideal for mass plantings, borders, edging or in the landscape foundation or perennial boarder.

It offers a gigantic display of clear, lemon-yellow flowers and because it is a re-bloomer, it gives you color over an extended blooming season

This U.S.D.A. Zone 4 plant is disease, insect and salt tolerant. It prefers dry to moist soil, sun or partial shade and a pH of 6.0 to 7.5.

Keep in mind that if you're looking for a winning combination in the landscape, Pocket Full of Gold® and daffodils make a perfect partnership. Inter-plant in equal quantities one foot apart. After the early spring daffodils have finished blooming, foliage from your Pocket Full of Gold® emerges and hides the bulbs foliage until it dies down. Then, of course, it will begin blooming mid-summer and continue until late in the season.
